Mr. Mayor:

I supported your election and we spoke regarding the issue of the Concrete Plant when you walked through our neighborhoods. I allowed your placard on my lawn (something I never do otherwise) because you told me you were against it and would take action against it.

As mayor, you need to take action. You cannot wait to see if someone else stops it first. Show some backbone, sir. As a geology major from Brown University, I can assure you that the pollutants from the plant shall not only damage our area, but also cause irreparable damage to Western Cranston and have negative effects as far west as the Scituate Reservoir.

Until a judge makes a ruling which silences you, and charges you NOT to make rulings against the concrete plant at this time, you should take a stand. By not doing anything, you are taking a stand, for the concrete plant.

I call on you at this point to stand up and do what you were elected to do. Clean up Cranston, and start by revoking their building permit.

Most sincerely yours,

Patrick

Dear Mayor Napolitano:

I'm writing this morning to express my unqualified support for the citizens group opposed to the concrete plant off Pontiac Avenue.

This is the wrong place to put this type of project. It endangers our citizens, our schools and our property.

People closer to the issue than I tell me that the homeowners on Howland Avenue never received the zoning variation notices as required by law. This looks and smells like another typical insider Cranston deal – albeit not on your watch.

During your campaign, you spoke out about this and declared yourself squarely on the side of the citizens. It's time for you to live up to your promises and pull this permit. You were elected to stand up for the citizens in cases such as this. We are relying on you to do so.

Sincerely,

Alex
